Thanks to your support...

ARISE is transforming the way high-risk youth look at life in Washington, DC. Chronic, serious youthful offenders, who use fists or weapons to solve problems and those tempted to follow in their footsteps, are in the process of changing destructive behaviors that place all citizens in harm's way throughout the District of Columbia.

The ARISE Life-Management Skills Intervention/Education and Staff Training program is active in every DC district including the infamous Oak Hill Youth Facility and the DC Jail. ARISE has trained and certified as life-skills instructors 428 staff, who are actually teaching the ARISE program in Washington.

With your continued support, the often self-destructive youth ARISE focuses its educational efforts on, will continue to change their attitudes and behavior patterns as documented by Professor Marjorie Montague of the University of Miami.
